

Laying Up Supper – November 10th 2007

Around 45 club members enjoyed a convivial evening at the club at this year's Laying –Up Supper. The evening got off to a great start with free wine, an unexpected bonus left over from a pontoon party this summer.

Bob Scott did a sterling job on the door taking orders for the fish / chicken and chips but, having placed the order, was somewhat let down by our supplier. This meant food was not served until late but for those attending next year there will be a substantial discount!

Whilst waiting on the food we all had a chance to look at the photographic competition and vote for our favourites. There were plenty of entries this year ranging from scenic to humorous and dawn to sunset.

The winners:-

First place – Sue Jensen and Mike Perrin – Taken when cruising with David Jones this summer. Stromoya, the summer out-station for the Bronboysund sailing club. About 30 miles south of the arctic circle. The pool was at the top of the island and formed as a sort of drowned ridge.

Second place - David Aldous – rowing boats on still water.

Third place - Sue Jensen and Mike Perrin – Again taken when cruising with David Jones this summer. Also at Stromoya. The ferry was the 'Hurtigruten' ('Hurtig' is 'hurry' and 'ruten' is 'the route') which does double duty as a post and general delivery boat and transport for the people of the west coast, and a cruise liner for holiday-makers.

Fourth Place – Judy Scott – Sunset at Goathorn Point, Poole
